CHURCH AND CLERGY.

The Church of England is organizing an increasing number of Christian Endeavor societies.

At Willingdale, Essex, England, two churches stand in one churchyard. This unique position was brought about many years ago by a quarrel between two sisters, each of whom presented the parish with a church.

Careful computation, says the New York Herald, shows that the Cathedral of St. John the Divine will be completed on April 15, 1922, if its construction proceeds at the same rate as it has since the laying of the cornerstone on Dec. 27, 1892.

A church that seats only 25 people has been dedicated in New York City. It is to fulfill a vow made by Frank Lisanti, who was stricken with a severe illness. He became well and began to save to keep his vow. In sixteen years he has saved $20,000, and the church has been built.

The Union Congregational church of Des Moines, Ia., gave its pastor, Rev. R. W. Porter, a month's vacation, the first in two years, but he refused to leave the city and utilized his vacation in completing the church building which has been projected and partially completed under his labors.

The Largest Tomb.

The largest tomb in the world, now in the Vatican at Rome, weighs seven pounds and has carvings upon it that occupied three Neapolitan lapidaries sixty-one years.

Around the Earth.

The time required for a journey around the earth by a man walking day and night, without resting, would be 428 days; an express train, forty days; sound at medium temperature, thirty-two and one-half hours; light, a little over one-tenth of a second, and electricity, passing through a copper wire, a little under one-tenth of a second.

Itching, torturing skin eruptions disappear, amony, drive out with Burdock. Ointment brings quick relief and lasting cures. Fifty cents at any drug store.

After a heavy meal, take a couple of Doan's Regulets, and give your stomach, liver and bowels the help they need. Regulets bring easy, regular passages of the bowels.

Everybody's friend—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Cures toothache, earache, sore throat. Heals cuts, bruises, scalds. Stops any pain.

THINGS THEATRICAL.

Forbes Robertson will produce "Caesar and Cleopatra" in America next fall.

Cora Maynard, author of "The Measure of a Man," Daniel V. Arthur and J. Fred Zimmerman's new production, is spending the summer at her home in Dublin, N. H., where she is making a few alterations in the book.

Edward A. Braden has completed his plans for the production of "Baratine," a dramatization of Marie Corelli's novel of that name. Tyrone Power will appear in the title role. There are four acts and ten scenes in this drama.

Louise Allen Collier has been engaged by Lew M. Fields to support him in character work when he opens the Herald Square theater, New York, in September. Mrs. Collier canceled her vaudeville engagements in order to sign the contract.

"Sam Houston," written by John McGovern and Clay Clement, will be entirely a Chicago contribution to the stage. Mr. Clement will be remembered for his excellent performance of Baron Hohenstaufen in his own play, "The New Dominion."

Silvio Hein, composer, and Benjamin Haspgood Burt, author of Marie Cahill's new play, have returned to New York from Rutland, Vt., the home of Mr. Burt, where they prepared the musical numbers of the production, which will be one of the first to open the regular New York season.

OUR CROPS.

The outlook at this time is for good business for the grain trade, heavy tonnage for the railroads and remunerative returns for the farmers.—Minneapolis Journal.

The wheat crop is an assured success. The prospect for corn is unusually good. That presages a generous fall and winter trade in nearly all lines of business.—Cleveland Leader.

The four great farm crops of corn, hay, wheat and oats, named in the order of their gross value, will probably be worth this year some $2,750,000,000. All the gold dug in all the world in the 414 years since Columbus found the new continent would buy but four such crops.—New York World.

Organizes Hens to Aid Church.

John G. Herman has organized the chickens in the neighborhood of the Wesley Episcopal church near Sykesville, Md., into a missionary society to raise funds for the church. Each hen is a lay member, so to speak, for the farmers of the neighborhood have agreed to turn over to the church every egg that the hens lay on Sunday. These eggs are to be taken to the church each Sunday afternoon at the hour of the Epworth league meeting and placed in a basket at one side of the pulpit.

EDGAR E. CLARK,

of Railroad Conductors, Commissioner Clark was born in Lima, N. Y., in 1836 and removed to the west in 1871, serving as brakeman on various roads and in 1884 becoming a conductor on the Denver and Rio Grande. He was elected grand senior conductor of the Order of Railroad Conductors in 1888 and in 1890 was chosen grand chief conductor. He is married and has several children, and his home is at Cedar Rapids, Ia. In his work at the head of the order with which he has been so long connected he has acquired an acquaintance with the cost of operation of railways and the extent of their income which is considered to qualify him especially for membership on the commission which is to administer the new railway rate law. President Roosevelt showed his appreciation of his abilities four years ago when he made him a member of the arbitration commission which adjusted the anthracite coal strike.

Viscount Tadasu Hayashi, Japan's minister of foreign affairs, who promises the opening of southern Manchuria about the 1st of September, is a very interesting character, and he had a most strenuous career as a young man. He was until recently Japan's ambassador at the court of St. James, and his greatest achievement is the treaty of alliance between England and Japan, which has such an important bearing upon international relations. The viscount dresses

when abroad in European style and has very little the appearance of a

Japanese. He

is the possessor of several honorary degrees,

having received from

Cambridge an

L. L. D. and from Oxford a

D. C. L. He is much interested in Freemasonry,

in which order

he holds a high post, and is a knight of the Grand Cross

of the Royal Victorian order. He has written a book in English and has also translated several works from

English into

Japanese for the benefit of his countrymen.

Though now so eminent and accomplished, it is but a comparatively few years since the viscount was living in a cage, subsisting on pickled radish and Chinese rice. At times he was even cheated out of these rations.

After his education as a youth in England he participated in the rebellion of his clan, the Satsuma, against the miikado. When the insurrection was crushed the captured rebels were confinement in prisons which were mere cages, with no protection against heat in summer and the bitter cold of northern Japan in winter. Fortunately the present minister of foreign affairs had such a good knowledge of English that the miikado preserved his life in order that he might be of use to his country, and he has amply repaid his sovereign for this merciful action.

Congressman Charles E. Littlefield of Maine, whose political scalp is sought by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, is a member of the judiciary committee of the house of representatives. The anti-injunction bill favored by Mr.

Gompers and the wage earners who belong to his organization met with its death in this committee at the last session of congress, and the head of the federation holds Mr. Littlefield chiefly responsible for its fate. It is on this ground that war is being waged against the Maine statesman in his district by the forces of organized labor.

Mr. Littlefield succeeded the late Nelson Dingley in congress and was talked of for the speakership at the time David B. Henderson resigned the post. He is noted as one of the best orators of the house and has long been
